REGIONAL UPDATES

ADL New York/New Jersey is thrilled to announce the completion of the 2023 ADL NY/NJ Bridge Building with the Brooklyn Nets program. This pilot program aimed to bring together a diverse group of high school students from the NYC community to engage in conversations around identity, bias, and community building. We were honored to partner with community organizations and national leaders like Sam Zussman, CEO of BSE Global, Sheik Mussa of Peace December, and our very own, Jonathan A. Greenblatt, ADL CEO & National Director. The series wrapped up at the Barclays Center to watch the Brooklyn Nets take on the New Orleans Pelicans!

On March 25th, ADL New York/New Jersey partnered with Rabbi Marc Schneier, the President of the Foundation for Ethnic Understanding and Kwame Anthony Appiah, a New York Times writer and Public Theater board member, along with Scott Richman, ADL NY/NJ Regional Director, for an insightful discussion about The Ally, a passionate, provocative, and unflinching new play about the vanishing line between the personal and the political.

ADL UPDATES & RESOURCES

WHITE SUPREMACIST PROPAGANDA REPORT

In 2023, for the second year in a row, ADL recorded its highest ever number of white supremacist propaganda incidents, with a total of 7,567 cases. This is a 12 percent increase from the 6,746 incidents in 2022.

This annual assessment is just one dataset that helps to quantify the hate marginalized communities face on a daily basis. The numbers in this assessment are subject to change as law enforcement and other stakeholders release information that could increase the total amount of propaganda incidents in individual states.

ATLAS (ANTISEMITISM TRENDS, LEARNING AND STATISTICS)

ADL's new ATLAS tool provides global antisemitism information and analysis. The data includes antisemitic incidents, antisemitic attitudes, information about government commitments and a variety of reports - all providing a comprehensive picture of the state of antisemitism worldwide.

"At a time when antisemitism is an urgent problem around the globe, the ATLAS will be a pivotal tool in understanding where hot spots are and how governments are responding," said Jonathan Greenblatt, ADL CEO. "ADL is proud to lead this effort along with many global partners - we are a stronger force together in fighting antisemitism."

AWARENESS TO ACTION: CHALLENGING ANTISEMITISM

On March 19th, ADL launched a new online learning experience, Awareness to Action: Challenging Antisemitism, tailored for middle and high school student groups. This comprehensive course aims to demystify antisemitism and equip students with the tools to combat bias. Divided into four modules, the course is freely available to schools, with each module designed to be completed in under 30 minutes. The initiative responds to a critical need, as antisemitic incidents have surged across the United States, including on college campuses and in K-12 schools.

NEVER IS NOW

On March 6th and 7th, ADL held its annual Never Is Now summit in New York City, bringing together over 4,000 people, including leaders from across the political and ideological spectrum, to learn about and engage in the fight against antisemitism and all forms of hate. We were reminded in an extraordinary way at Never Is Now that amidst our differences, together we can use our shared values and our shared strength to find the way forward in combatting hate in the October 8th world.
